NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Down come the hotel rates. Next.

—Men of political buy-us—Repeaters.

—The song in New Orleans—"When this Creole war is over."

—So active and young-looking is Emperor William that it is hard to believe that he rode into Paris in 1814.

—Boston Post gives it up for Tilden thus: "Now fold your little 'Rebel Claims' and lay them quietly away for 1880."

—Words cannot express the disgust which prevails in the hat stores in consequence of the election excitement.

—The St. Louis Globe-Democrat suggests that distinguished Democrats who want to go on a week's spree give out that they have started for New Orleans.

—'Tis said that Thomas Paine, the "patriot and infidel," wrote the larger portion of his Age of Reason in a little old building half a mile southwest of York, Pa.

—Says an Agency despatch: "Most of the Sioux chiefs hanker for peace." That's the first time we ever knew that handkerchiefs were in vogue among the Indians.

—Not bad! The Norristown Herald, noticing the Tribune's remark, that "Henry Watterson sometimes talks pistols," says: "That is when he is 'half-cocked,' we presume."

—A lady travelling in England writes to the Brooklyn Argus: "I saw Alfred Tennyson standing dreamily at the vine-clad window of his country villa, bathed in the rich colors of the dying day, with a chunk of mince pie in his good right hand.

—Prince Gortschakoff is now 76 years of age, and the quidnuncs of Europe are looking around for his successor. The two most prominent candidates are Count Schouvaloff, now representing Russia at the Court of St. James, and Gen. Ignatieff, Russian Ambassador at Constantinople.

—Mr. Whittier is 68 years old and a most quaint, kindly and refined person, using habitually the Quaker "thee" and "thou." Mr. Longfellow is a year older and wears well the dignity of the gentleman and the poet. Mr. Lowell is 57, and has the look of the critic rather than of the poet.

—Mrs. Dr. J. C. Stillian, of Clarinda, Iowa, has just inherited a fortune of $300,000,000,000,900 from an English estate. The exact amount of the legacy may differ a million or two from our report, but we have noticed that in these American inheritances of English fortunes it isn't at all necessary to be particular about a figure or two.

—Nobody has read the Vanderbilt health bulletines for ten days, and the old Commodore is so mad that he swears, "unconsciously and sinlessly, catching up the expressions from those by whom he is surrounded," that he will die sometime in the night and not let a soul know a word about it until he has been dead a week.

—The Returning Board at New Orleans is thus sketched: Wells and Anderson are plain looking planters, not less than sixty years of age. Wells was a Union man, Anderson a Confederate. Cassanave is in an undertaker by trade, nearly white, and always free. Kenner is darker, was a slave, and is now a saloon keeper.

—A New York correspondent says, "Tilden is said to be much excited over the situation. He was entirely confident for six weeks previous to the election, and retired on election night, after his dinner party, entirely happy. This reverse is telling severely upon his nervous system, and one of his friends said to-day, "I am afraid that if the old man is defeated, it may kill him as it did Greeley."

—The Philadelphia Inquirer repeats the rumor that Patti is going to be divorced, quietly and a l'amicable, from the Marquis de Caux. But the rumor probably has no foundation. In the first place, the French law does not admit of divorce, and, in the second, the Marquis de Caux is too expert a gambler not to know when he has a good thing. There is reason to believe, however, that the domestic life of the diva has not been a stormless summer.

—Thus a poet sings of Florida:

Wind of the southland, sigh along
Thy everglades, and roll a
Huge wave for Hayes, correct and strong
From Apalachicola.

For Hayes or Tilden? Which is what?
Why should the news so slow be?
How went the vote in that sweet spot,
Swamp landed Okeechobee?

How stood the dauntless colored man—
For Hayes or Tilden spoke he?
How voted each true Southern clan
In dark Okeefenokee?

Where flows the silver Perdido
Past hummocks dark and grassy,
How did Wakulla's hundreds go?
And how went Tallahassee?

Did Pensacola's striplings vote
As went each gray-haired gran'pa?
And whose majority was wrote
Above thy gates, O Tampa?

Old Ouitchabonkee's waves are blue
By Ocklawha's gray thatches,
And Hayes has carried Choctawahu—
Larouckafeckowhatchee.

—Miss Lelia Morse, daughter of the late Prof. S. B. F. Morse, before sailing for Europe by the Bothnia, yesterday, gave a positive denial to the current rumor of her engagement to Governor Tilden. While the lady was receiving her friends on Monday at the Winsor Hotel, Mr. Tilden called, and after being introduced to the company, drew a paper from his pocket and inquired with a serious air if Miss Morse had seen the morning's Tribune. (This contained an allusion to the report of an engagement.) "Yes," replied the young lady with suppressed merriment, "my friends have sent me twelve copies!" This excited the curiosity of the guests, and all were on the alert for the words which followed. After a moment's pause Miss Morse added earnestly: "Impossible! That could never be." Mr. Tilden at once changed the subject to politics, and inquired of the nearest lady if she were a Democrat. "No, sir," she replied, "I am a Republican!" Then addressing another, he said, "You, I am sure, are a Democrat. You have a Democratic face." "I am not," answered the lady; "I have no sympathy with the Democrats." "Well," exclaimed the Governor, gallant to the last, "whether ladies are Democrats or Republicans, I admire them all the same."

—The American Consul at San Juan reports that in the recent hurricane which visited Poto Rico, forty-five vessels were lost or damaged, and that the crews of the same were drowned.

—Watterson is out with another blast against the Returning Board of Louisiana. Poor man; couldn't somebody induce him to imbibe some soothing syrup instead of that other article?

—There was another muddle between the Democrats and colored men at Beaufort, South Carolina, yesterday. It is said the negroes around have massed to the number of 2,000 to defend themselves.

—The New Orleans Democrat of yesterday says O. H. Brewster and Judge A. B. Levisee, Presidential Electors from Louisiana, are ineligible because they held offices of profit and trust at the time of their election.

—N. B. Kennedy, during a quarrel with a conductor on the Charleston & Memphis Railroad yesterday, was struck on the head with a monkey wrench, and he died in a few hours. The conductor, Alex Perryman, had ejected Kennedy and his his brother from the car, when they assaulted him, with the result stated.

The "Post's" Rooster.

[Stanzas indited by a depressed Democrat while gazing sadly upon the present dilapidated appearance of that once proud fowl—the Post's rooster.]

Has than Rooster crowed its head off,
Or been taken with the colic?
Has the benzine turned its stomach
In the midst of all the frolic?
Have these bold Reformers wilted,
And grown pale and melancholic?
Have these Tilden jollifrings
Turned to cursings diabolic?

Have you heard from South Carolina,
How Sam Tilden stock is quoted?
Have you heard from Louisiana,
How the carpet-bagger voted?
Or from Florida, for certain,
If returns have all been toted
To that steamboat that is coming,
As the telegraph has noted?

Have you heard beyond a question
Whether Tilden is elected?,
If he isn't can't the Ku-Klux
Have the nigger vote inspected,
And to stop this wild corruption
Let the poll-books be corrected?
For from the scalawags and niggers
Democrats must be protected.

And we won't stand any nonsense
Till this matter is adjusted,
So we get our share of stealings,
As our souls so long have lusted.
Now, we Democrats aren't heavy
On your plugs and standing collars,
But we know the rooster ticket,
Though we're not the best of scholars.

So can you tell us why that Rooster,
Is so very much disgusted?
We have loved that bird amazing,
But our bummers now are busted,
Having yelled until we're thirsty,
And no means of getting trusted;
Now our barrel is exhausted,
You can bet we're all disgusted.

LOUISIANA.

The Peacemakers—Reply of the Democrats to the Republican Answer.

NEW ORLEANS, November 17, 1876.

To the Hons. Jno. Sherman, Stanley Matthews, J. A. Garfield, W. D. Kelly, Jno. A. Kasson, E. W. Stoughton, C. Irvine Ditty, J. H. Von Allen, Eugene Hale, M. S. Quay, Will. L. Cumback, E. F. Noyes, Job E. Stevenson, Jno. Coburn, Lew. Wallace, Jno. Tuttle, M. A. McGrew, J. A. Chapman, Wm. R. Smith, Abner Saylor, S. A. Havon, J. M. Beardsley, C. B. Farwell, Courtlandt Parker, Sidney Clark and J. C. Wilson:

GENTLEMEN:—We are in receipt of your answer to our letter of the 14th inst., in which you inform us of your determination not to confer with us for the purpose of exerting such influence as we may possess in behalf of such a canvass of the votes actually cast at the election in Louisiana as by its fairness and impartiality shall command the acquiescence and respect of all parties. We sincerely regret the failure of our attempt to secure the co-operation of the citizens from other States in furtherance of the purpose which, as we supposed, had brought them hither at this juncture. We regret it all the more because your refusal to confer and co-operate with us appears to be based upon a serious misapprehension of the language, no less than the spirit of our communication. It can hardly have escaped your notice that our statement of the result to be attained by the co-operation which we sought to bring about was a simple reproduction of the language of President Grant, at whose request we understand you are here. In his recent order to General Sherman that language was deliberately used, no doubt in view of the fact about which, as we conceive, there can be no dispute, that the first and most essential prerequisite to an honest and just declaration of the result of the recent election in Louisiana is a fair and impartial canvass of votes actually cast, and it seems to us that you do the President great injustice in supposing that in speaking of the "votes actually cast" he meant to include votes illegally, as you certainly do us injustice by the imputation of a desire to insist upon such a narrow and vicious an interpretation. In our judgment the expression "votes actually cast" of necessity designates votes legally cast, and as a consequence of such votes only did we desire to secure a fair and impartial canvass. We beg leave to say, therefore, that you are mistaken in the belief that we sought unduly to narrow the basis on which we invited your co-operative action, and you are no less in error in attributing to us a purpose to interfere with the legal authorities of the State in the discharge of their duties, to claim rights and arrogate to ourselves powers which we do not possess. In writing our letter, we were fully aware that both the organization and action, whether judicial or ministerial, of the Returning Board of Louisiana were beyond any authoritative control from without, and that it would be the height of arrogance and folly to attempt to alter the laws of a State of which we are not citizens, or to obtrude our interpretation of these laws upon those whose duty it is to administer them. But we had supposed, nevertheless, that there was an influence which might be rightfully exerted even by citizens of this Republic who are strangers in this State, and we had taken it for granted that your presence here, in response to the suggestion of the President, was a recognition of this fact. We had supposed that it was not improper for us to remind the authorities of this State, by our mere presence at least, that there are certain rules of fairness and justice which underlie all constitutions and laws, and upon whose observance must depend the acquiescence of the people of all parties in the declared result of the Louisiana election. Rules such as these—but no one ought to be a judge in his own case—that the decision of any contest ought not to depend upon the mere arbitrament of one of the parties thereto; that before such a decision is made both parties ought to be fully and fairly heard; that all questions of law ought to be decided in conformity with its established general principles, and all questions of fact upon evidence duly presented and weighed under the rules which are of universal recognition in all the States of this Union; that the trial of all causes involving public interests at least ought to be public, and that all the proceedings resorted to for the purpose of determining the issues in the present electoral contest ought by their manifest impartiality to disarm the suspicion that the forms of law have been perverted into instruments for the violation of its spirit.

In this connection we may be permitted to observe that while undoubtedly as you say a sedulous inculcation and cultivation of the habits of obedience to the forms of law is necessary to the preservation of constitutional liberty, it is no less important that a refusal to yield such obedience be not provoked by using these forms as means for subverting the very ends for which they were designed. Without undertaking to question the sincerity of the belief which you are at pains to express that you know of no reason to doubt that the Louisiana Returning Board will make a perfectly honest and just declaration of the results of the recent election in Louisiana, we deem it not improper to remind you that the presence in this city of so many citizens from all parts of the Union at this moment seems to be evidence of a widely prevalent distrust of the action of this board, and that such distrust has this foundation at least that the constitution of the board has not been changed since its returns were set aside by a Congressional committee, of which the Republican candidate for the Vice Presidency was a member, and this distrust is not unnatural in view of the fact that, as all understand, one of the members of the Returning Board is a candidate voted for at the recent election, another the holder of an office of profit and trust by the appointment of the present Executive of the National Government, while all the members of the board are believed to be in affiliation with but one of the parties to the present political contest. In view of all this, it is hardly necessary to add that the terms of our letter were not designed to prejudge the question whether the functions of the Returning Board were judicial or ministerial, or both, but simply to invite you to see with us that whatever may be the character of these functions, they are openly, fairly and honestly discharged, and while we thus refrained from any attempt at stating or construing the laws of Louisiana, we deemed it equally irrevelant to the subject of our correspondence with you to allude to the duties devolving upon the officers other than the constituents of the Louisiana Returning Board under the laws and Constitution of the United States. Whether, as you observe by way of illustration, under the Constitution the President of the Senate both counts and declares the votes of electors of the several States, his duty being purely ministerial, and not subject to the control of Congress, or whether, as has been the practice for more than eighty years, a practice inaugurated by men some of whom had been among the framers of the Constitution, the votes are to be counted under the direction and control of the Senate and House of Representatives, is a question upon the discussion of which all deem it no part of our duty to enter.

In conclusion, permit us to say that notwithstanding your refusal to co-operate, we still cherish the hope that the Returning Board, warned by the history of the past, and conscious that its actions are being observed by the whole nation, will discharge its delicate duty with such circumspection, fairness and impartiality as will give satisfaction to the American people. To this end we will continue to labor. Should a different result follow the action of the board, we shall have the satisfaction of knowing that while you have taken the responsibility of declining to act with us, we have done all in our power to avert the consequences which may follow. Very respectfully,

Signed—John M. Palmer, Lyman Trumbull, Wm. R. Morrison (Ill.), Samuel J. Randall, A. G. Curtin, Wm. Bigler (Pa.), J. R. Doolittle, George B. Smith (Wis.), J. E. McDonald, George W. Julien, M. D. Gathering Affidavits.

NEW ORLEANS, November 17.—The Democratic Committee have received several hundred affidavits from negroes and some from Republican officials in Ouachita and other bull-dozed parishes, showing a peaceable and quiet election; also intimidation of negroes who desired to vote the Democratic ticket, but did not do so for fear of violence from Republicans of their own color. The Republican officials have counter affidavits, in many cases showing violence and intimidation where the Democrats have sworn nothing of the kind existed. In all preceding Louisiana election muddles the Republicans have monopolized the affidavit business, but this time their efforts will probably be eclipsed by the array of affidavits that will be presented by the Democrats.

It is stated to-night on good authority that the Returning Board, when it meets to-morrow, will reply to the application of the Democratic Committee, allowing five members from each party to be present during the canvassing of the returns.

A Democratic Story.

The report is current that the returns from some wards of this city will undergo revision and reconstruction to secure a district judgeship for the Republicans, but the report cannot be traced to any reliable source. The Democrats are in good feather to-night over the news from South Carolina.

Business Depressed.

Business continues extremely dull, with no prospect of improvement until the present political dispute is adjusted and the election of President conceded by the opposing party. The belief seems to be very general that the Returning Board will repeat the performance of 1872 in effect, and declare Packard elected Governor.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Canvassing the Vote.

COLUMBIA, S. C., November 17.—The Supreme Court to-day issued an auxiliary order instructing the Board of Canvassers to proceed strictly in the ministerial duty of canvassing the returns and submit the same to the court. The Board of Canvassers decided to admit five gentlemen on each side to witness the canvass.

COLUMBIA, S. C., November 17.—The Supreme Court has decided nothing in the election matter, merely ordered the Board to canvass the vote ministerially and report to the Court.

COLUMBIA, S. C., November 17.—The Board of Canvassers, proceeding under the order of the Supreme Court to aggregate the vote of the State for Presidential electors and for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, have canvassed the vote of five counties for the former and ten for the latter, without announcing the result. A large number of protests are being filed by both parties, and irregularities existing in several counties have been discovered. The order of the court does not decide the powers or functions of the board. The petition for a writ of prohibition against the exercise of judicial powers is held under advisement, and the board is required to certify the count of the vote to the court.

CABINET MEETING.

The Political Situation Discussed.

WASHINGTON, November 17.—The regular Cabinet session to-day was attended by all the members, and lasted about two hours. There was a general interchange of views as to the present political situation. Various questions that have been raised throughout the country concerning the eligibility of certain Presidential electors, and contingencies that might arise in connection with any possible vacancies in the Electoral College or in connection with the return of electoral votes, were informally discussed, with a view to a full understanding of the Federal estate laws upon these subjects. Subsequently the members of the Cabinet visited the law library of the Department of Justice, to consult statutes and decisions affording the desired information. No action, however, was taken on any of the points, as no question on calling for executive determination or immediate consideration has thus far been presented.

FLORIDA

Gone for Hayes and Wheeler.

WASHINGTON, November 17.—A private telegram has been received here from Senator Osborn, dated Tallahassee, this morning, asserting positively that Florida has gone for Hayes and Wheeler, and a dispatch received at Republican headquarters to-day makes the same claim in regard to Louisiana.

WASHINGTON TOPICS.

Pardon for Wm. McKee.

The Attorney General has recommended to the President that a pardon be granted to Wm. McKee, of St. Louis, now in jail at Jefferson City, and therefore a warrant for that purpose will issue without any delay. The pardon is recommended by attorneys Bliss, Brodhead and Dyer.

Sports on the Turf.

WASHINGTON, November 17.—A drizzling rain marred the sport to-day at the Brightwood races. The dash of five furlongs for two year olds was won by Bosworth. Time 1:09. The dash of one mile for three year olds was won by Hatteras. Time 1:49¾. The one mile and a quarter dash for all ages was won by Hobkirk, but on a claim of foul the race was given to Lady Clipper. The decision disgusted the spectators, who claimed that the wrong horse won, hence the decision. The so-called steeple chase was won by Captain Hammer.

Activity at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

NEW YORK, November 17.—It was rumored yesterday that orders had been received from Washington to place the entire Brooklyn Navy Yard on a war footing. Commodore Nicholson declined to say anything in regard to the matter, but it is certain that very unusual movements are in progress at the yard, and that the frigate Minnesota was yesterday furnished ammunition and fully equipped for sea.

The Situation in the East.

Significant Address of the Czar.

ENGLAND GETTING HER AMMUNITION READY.

THE WAR.

The English Press on the Eastern Question.

LONDON, November 17.—The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon has a leading editorial on the Eastern question, which concludes as follows: English jealousy and English suspicion are thoroughly aroused. Any overt act on the part of Russia in the direction of her suspected aims would deepen this suspicion into active hostility, and not only leave the Government free to act against Russia, but in certain contingencies compel them so to act.

The Times, in its financial column, says: One of the rumors on the Stock Exchange yesterday was that Lord Derby had withdrawn from the negotiations on the Eastern question, and the cabinet had ordered the occupation of Constantinople by British forces, so that there would be no conference, but immediate war. This rumor is probably the foundation of the following statement which the Financier makes editorially to-day: "We can state not officially, but very confidently, the course the British cabinet have resolved upon if Russia invades Turkey. In such case a British army corps will immediately occupy Constantinople, and defend it against all attacks. It is calculated that not more than 25,000 troops are needed, and British engineer officers are already making a survey for a thorough defense of the Turkish capital."

NOTE—The latter statement probably grows out of a telegram from Constantinople on the 14th inst., stating that several officers of the corps of Royal Engineers had arrived in that city. The Financier adds: England's object is not to participate in the war between Turkey and Russia, who may fight out their quarrel, whether in Asia or Europe, but to protect Constantinople and the Dardanelles from seizure by Russia. England would simply hold Constantinople in pledge temporarily on behalf of the other powers and the world at large. As soon as a neutral state was formed on the Bosphorus, or such other arrangement effected as Europe may ultimately determine upon for the wardenship of the Dardanelles, England would willingly withdraw. Thus the ministerial policy is perfectly clear and free from future entanglement. It has a distinct object of vital importance to British interests, and beyond that object the Government will not go.

The foregoing in all probability has no better foundation than the Stock Exchange rumor before mentioned, which the Times merely repeats without comment. But it shows the current of opinion here among the supporters of the Ministry. But there is strong diverson in public sentiment about the course the Government ought to pursue.

The Times continues to advocate co-operation with Russia in forcing upon the Porte satisfactory reforms, and has a strong editorial on the subject to-day, in which it cites the intervention in Syria in 1860, and the French occupation of the Lebanon by acquiescence of all the treaty powers, to show that military interference in Bulgaria would have an effect precedent, and that as the Porte yielded to European control of her internal affairs then, she would do so in the parellel case now presented.

The organs of the Liberal party strongly oppose any action in a sense hostile to Russia. The Standard, Telegraph and Pall Mall Gazette do not believe England can remain neutral. The Post, while strongly anti-Russian, is disposed to believe Russia has abandoned the idea of demanding or seizing material guarantees for the execution of reforms, or of insisting upon autonomy in the sense of infringing on the independence of Turkey. It thinks, therefore, that a conference may arrive at an arrangement satisfying Russia's legitimate susceptibilities and independence, and cover the foreign rights of the Ottoman Empire.

Address of the Czar.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says the Czar, addressing Generals and officers at the close of a review at Tsarkoselo, on Wednesday, said: "Gentlemen, let us wish the best success to the commanders of our armies." The Czar's words were received with enthusiastic cheering. All freight traffic has been stopped since yesterday on various railways.

The Chinese Government has presented to the United States the general ethnological and industrial collection in the Government building. The cash admissions to-day were 1,879.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

Minor Items From the City Police Courts

THE cellar of Willis Boothe, corner of Wylie avenue and Dickey lane, was robbed of a lot of provisions night before last.

WALLACE'S wholesale grocery store, on Sixth avenue, was found open about eight o'clock last evening. Nothing was stolen, but two hats were found on the floor.

BURGLARS got into Alderman Bartley's residence, No. 1039 Penn avenue, Thursday night. They were discovered by a young lady, whose screams frightened them away before they secured any plunder.

THIEVES entered the store of Robert Tippin, No. 31 Second street, early yesterday morning, but were heard by the owner and frightened away before they got any thing. They got in by removing a panel out of the front door.

WM. LEWIS and Pat Harris were arrested yesterday for stealing a window sash from an unoccupied house, No. 140 Third avenue, owned by James Park, Jr. About thirty feet of lead pipe was also missing from the house. They await a hearing.

CHARLES BROWN stole a pair of pants from a Market street store, Thursday evening, and being detected by the proprietor, commenced cursing him (the proprietor), and threatened to thrash him. Brown was arrested, and yesterday got ninety days to Claremont.

ALDERMAN MCKELVY, of Allegheny, has issued a warrant for the arrest of Henry Bollmer, who is charged by E. N. Greenawald with procuring from him $60 worth of boarding by representing that he was a representative of a Cincinnati factory, which the plaintiff avers he has since ascertained to be false.

AN inmate of a disreputable house on Clark street, named Delia Smith, attempted to commit suicide by taking laudanum, Thursday night. She repented before it was too late, told the other inmates, and Dr. Shaw being summoned, administered antidotes and saved her life.

DETECTIVE O'MARA yesterday noticed a man on Ross street carrying something under his coat and acting suspiciously. He arrested him and took him to the Central Station, where it was found that he had a lot of brass fixtures for machinery, which had been stolen from Atwood & McCaffrey. ····Blair countians are greatly agitated over an order from Col. J. T. Milliken directing the Fifth Regiment, N. G. P., to drill thrice a week and be ready to march at a moment's notice.

····Complaint is made that the newsboys who have the run of the cars of the Citizens' Passenger Railway Company always neglect to give back any change when a passenger buys a paper.

····The drovers who are charged with maintaining a nuisance in the Second ward, Allegheny, in the shape of the odorous cattle yards now there, will have a hearing before Mayor Phillips on Monday afternoon.

····No hopes are entertained of the recovery of August Hemple, who attempted suicide by taking Paris green in Shaler township the other evening. His daughter, who was injured by the accident in Allegheny, will also die.

····As Frederick Gedekah and Henry Becker were returning in a spring wagon from the funeral of Edward Finch Thursday afternoon, their horse ran off, throwing Becker out and severely injuring him. He was removed to his home on the South Side.

····Mrs. McCall, who was beaten by her husband with a chair Wednesday evening, is in a more favorable condition, and her physician, Dr. Boggs, has hopes of her recovery, if inflammation does not set in. McCall is still locked up, awaiting the result of her injuries.

····The prospects for extending the Castle Shannon Railroad to Washington, Pa., are very flattering. A sufficient amount has been subscribed to complete the road to Finleyville, a distance of eight miles, and the canvassers will now go to work on the other end of the road.

····The Centennial Committee will today endeavor to make some arrangements for paying for the medals made as prizes for the regatta on the morning of the Fourth of July. Their cost is about $90, and the medals have been completed for some time, but still remain in the jeweler's hands.

····A large number of boys, pupils of the Fourth ward schools, Allegheny, got into a fight yesterday afternoon in front of the school house on Liberty street with a lot of colored lads. A pistol was discharged and stones thrown freely, but fortunately no one was hurt. John Anderson, of the colored faction, was arrested.

····Maggie Whitmore, who claimed Birmingham as her place of residence, was arrested at Washington, Pa., on Thureday, for swindling several storekeepers of that place out of goods by buying and then having them charged to Capt. H. P. Boon, a well known resident of that place. She restored the articles and was released.

····The remains of Daniel Lamb, aged forty years, corporal in the Washington Infantry, were followed to their final resting place in St. Mary's Cemetery yesterday. The funeral service took place at the Cathedral, and the company, preceded by the Cathedral band, both in full dress, attended the funeral. The cortege was a very large and imposing one.

····On next Tuesday the work of hanging the immense links of the huge chains that are to span the river between the piers of the new Point bridge, will be commenced. The wire cables whereon the car will travel in which the workmen will perform the work of hanging the chain, are six in number, and cost $10,000. At present they support a forty-three ton "basket" and eighteen workmen, besides a portable forge and the necessary tools.

····The Erie Dispatch contains a sensational account of a shooting affray in that city Thursday, in which a Mrs. Lucinda Sirrine shot a Mr. Spencer Walton, inflicting a severe flesh wound in the thigh. The cause of the shooting is not definitely explained in the article but it appears from the Court reports of the same journal that Mrs Sirrine was prosecutrix in a case against Walton, on a charge of assault and battery and because the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and directed that each party pay one-half the costs she shot him.

····Property owners on Second avenue, between Try street and the Birmingham bridge are complaing, and apparently with good cause, against the assessment of their property for the improvement of Bluff street. It appears that there is a strip of ground about twenty-five feet wide, extending along the lower side of Bluff street, between the street and the lots fronting on Second avenue, and notwithstanding this, the lots on Second avenue have been assessed at the rate of one dollar per foot front for the grading of Bluff street, and the street is of no benefit and never can be to the property assessed. The payment of the assessment will probably be contested in the courts.

····The employes of Jacob Painter & Sons' iron works have contributed over $400 for the relief of the sufferers by the Zug's mill explosion. This amount was distributed among the sufferers by a committee appointed by the employes. Mr. Laurent, Treasurer of the Citizens' Relief Fund, reports that there is over $7,600 in the treasury now. Owing to the fact that many private subscriptions have been given to the sufferers by the explosion, and that in several instances the employes of mills and other large firms have appointed their own committees, who have disbursed and are disbursing the funds raised up to the present time, the committees judged it best to keep in reserve all the money possible, to be used during the coming winter, when the sufferers will be in greater want than they are now.

····The Post has a sublime faith in brag, and indulges in that stimulant of false hope to an unlimited extent, but it is now beginning to weaken. We have it, on undoubted authority, that there is privately wailing in the camp, and that they now among themselves mournfully put Oregon, South Carolina and Louisiana down in the Hayes column, but still hang on to Florida, hoping against hope. Out of seven doubtful States which they claimed with such an exuberance of hilarity at first, they now only turn for consolation to little Florida, and in a day or so they will publicly, as they do now privately, hang their harps upon the willows and sit down in sadness and wailing over that little State—their last hope—gone. Poor Post, notwithstanding a barnyard full of fowls, it could not keep up its crowing, and even with a zealous and experienced Taylor it cannot make up a Presidential garment for Sammy.

PERSONAL.

Mr. James T. Sample has purchased the Sewickley Times, and proposes to vigorously buffet the waves of the journalistic sea.

Mr. Thomas H. Hunter, who was shot by Burke, is improving slowly. He took a long ride Thursday with his physician, Dr. Gilmore.

Mr. N. Harrison, who represents Kellogg's newspaper publishing firm, of Chicago, is in the city attending to business and making professional acquaintances.

Donald McKay, the famous scout, who was so frequently spoken of with his band of Warm Spring Indians during the Modoc war, is spending a few days in the city.

Dr. Donnelly has in his possession a book published at Leyden in 1625. It is a rare volume, its author being Joannes de Laet, and gives a history of the new world. It contains a number of curious maps.

Miss Lizzie K., daughter of Dr. I. C. Pershing, is seriously ill, and some fears are felt for her recovery. She returned from the Pacific coast, apparently in robust health, sometime ago, and expected ere long to travel Southward, but was suddenly prostrated. It is hoped Providence will bless the efforts of skilled physicians and good nursing, and restore her to health again.—Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

The Fall of Man

Originated the necessary evil of clothing; but to be clothed in suits made by Bleakley & Kunz, No. 70 Smithfield street, is a pleasure indeed.

A SINGULAR CASE.

A Habeas Corpus for a Corpse—A Catholic Sister's Remains.

A very peculiar case transpired at Wheeling on Thursday, the particulars of which we find in the Intelligencer. A few days ago Sister Mary Louise, an inmate of "that mild form of lunatic asylum," as George Elliott, in "Daniel Deronda," styles a convent, died, after a few days' illness. Her family, who reside in Winchester, Va., were notified of the event, and her brother, Capt. Henry M. Brent, came on to Wheeling to obtain the remains to take them home for burial. Bishop Kain, of the Diocese of West Virginia, refused to let him have the body, contending that the remains should be buried in consecrated ground, according to the rules of the Church.

Capt. Brent plead with the Bishop for some time, but he proved inexorable. Capt. Brent finding all entreaties useless left the Bishop and sought Mr. Russell, a lawyer, who advised him to qualify as her administrator and get out a writ of habeas corpus in order to obtain her body. Acting upon this suggestion, he went to the Court House, and the Circuit Court being then in session, was without delay qualified as administrator of Caroline M. Brent, which was the name of his sister before she became a nun. Mr. Russell accompanied his client to the rooms of Bishop Kain in the Cathedral, and notified him of the action he had taken. Rev. Kain in answer stated that he also had consulted an attorney, and was prepared to resist any attempt that might be made to carry off the remains of the Sister. Mr. Russell then asked if he was to understand this as the Bishop's final decision, and upon receiving an answer in the affirmative, made known his intention of at once procuring a habeas corpus and have the body brought into open court. The Bishop upon this suggested a conference, with a view of effecting a compromise and thus avoid publicity. Mr. Russell consented, and the Bishop, Father Sullivan, Vicar General of the Diocese, and their attorneys, Messrs. Daniel Lamb and James Rogers, shortly afterwards met at his office for consultation. They decided to offer no further resistance to the wishes of the brother of the deceased. The Bishop, in making known his decision to his brother, remarked that he had opposed the wishes of the latter as long as he had the law upon his side, because he thought he was doing right, and obeyed the rules of the Catholic Church. He concluded by requesting that he be allowed the privilege of accompanying the remains to Winchester, and conducting the funeral services.

Caroline M. Brent, the young woman over whose remains this unseemly strife occurred, was a native of Winchester, Va., and of most excellent family. Her father was for many years cashier of a leading bank in that city, and at his death his son Henry succeeded him and is at present occupying that position. Caroline was a bright, intelligent girl, and possessed great personal charms. Some two years ago, while Bishop Kain was a priest at Winchester, Miss Brent, then a girl of nineteen, was through his ministrations converted to the Catholic faith. About seven months since, and after visiting a short time at Mt. de Chantal, she became a member of the Order of St. Joseph, and was from that time known as Sister Mary Louise.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

DION BOUCICAULT will appear at the Opera House in February.

AT the Opera House Oliver Doud Byron will follow John E. Owens, appearing in "Sentenced to Death."

THERE was hardly standing room in the Opera House last night. Not one vacant seat was in the theatre.

MARK BATES' services as Dick Swiveller have been dispensed with by the manager of the Katie Putnam troupe.

ALMOST every seat has been disposed of for the performance of Juliet by Miss Neilson at the Opera House this afternoon.

"BERTHA, THE SEWING MACHINE GIRL," a sensational play, will be performed at the Opera House this evening by the stock company.

MRS. F. S. CHANFRAU will succeed Anna Dickinson at Library Hall. Her plays are "Parted," "Dora," "Christie Johnstone," &c.

COMING attractions at Library Hall are Lawrence Barrett, E. L. Davenport, Madame Janauschek, Rose Eytinge, Kellogg Opera Company, Carncross & Dixey's Minstrels, Mrs. James A. Oates comic opera, Italian Opera, &c.

ANNA DICKINSON won't play on Saturday nights either. She winds up her engagement with the matinee next Saturday, and in the evening Mr. John Ellsler and Miss Effie Ellsler will appear as Father Barbeau and The Cricket.

"TOT, THE MATCH GIRL," a play written by Mrs. Ettie Henderson, was performed at Library Hall last night by the Katie Putnam troupe. It is unquestionably the poorest play we ever saw on a stage, and Miss Putnam does herself an injustice in keeping it in her repertory. It is a shabby imitation of "The Two Orphans," "Jane Eyre," and several other dramas. It is exceedingly weak, and in that respect can more than discount shadow soup. If Miss Putnam will take the advice of an admirer she will tear the play into giblets. The role of Tot is entirely beneath her ability. At the matinee this afternoon "The Old Curiosity Shop" will be produced, in which Miss Putnam is charming and delightful as Little Nell and The Marchioness. The bill for tonight is the "Little Detective" and "Nan."

OBSEQUIES.

Arrangements for the Burial of the Late Hon. Walter H. Lowrie.

The obsequies of the late Hon. Walter H. Lowrie, whose death has been noticed in the GAZETTE, will take place this afternoon at two o'clock from Dr. Hodge's church, corner of Lincoln and Allegheny avenues, Allegheny city, at which place the funeral sermon will be delivered. The following named gentlemen have been selected by the family as pall bearers, from the bench and bar of this county: Hon. J. P. Sterrett, Hon. Thos. Ewing, Hon. J. W. F. White and Hon. F. H. Collier, from the bench, and Geo. Shiras, Jr., Robert Woods, Wm. Bakewell, Jno. H. Hampton, Esqs., from the bar. The remains will be at the residence of Rev. Samuel Lowrie, son of deceased, corner of Ridge and Grant avenues, from whence they will be taken at half-past one o'clock, accompanied by the friends and pall bearers, to the church. The members of the bench and bar, other than the pall bearers, will be provided with seats in a body. After the sermon at the church the cortege will move to Allegheny Cemetery, where the remains will be deposited in their last resting place.

CHEEKY TRAMPS.

Capture of a Train by a Gang of Them.

This weeks Huntingdon Journal says: "On Wednesday afternoon, in the neighborhood of Manayunk, a party of tramps, to the number of twenty-three, boarded a western-bound freight train, when taking water, took possession of a car and refused all demands of the train bands to leave. The conductor telegraphed to Harrisburg the situation of affairs, and Supt. McCrea telegraphed to this place to have the party dislodged from the car and arrested. Consequently when the train arrived here a hundred or more people were at the depot with Sheriff Henderson in command. The door of the car was forced open, and the Sheriff entered, and handed out eighteen of the vilest looking chaps we have seen for many a day, some of whom were laughing, others whistling and others with a scowl upon their grimy faces that showed plainly that they did not relish the situation. They were marched to the office of Esquire Murray and from thence to Fort Henderson, in which institution they will tarry, at the expense of the county, long enough to get a good rest. This is fun for the tramps, but it is hard on the pockets of the tax-payers.

Gail Hamilton at Home.

This is the way in which a very young enthusiast describes Gail Hamilton's home and the writer herself: "We went out to tea in the loveliest of dining-rooms. The walls, carpets and window-draperies are of warm, rich maroon. These are relieved by the side-board, moldings, and wainscotings in black walnut, highly polished. The table linen, china, silver, and glassware were of exquisite pattern, and were marked with her initial D. The library and hall are dark, rich green velvet, in their carpets, furniture, and hangings. The upper hall and chambers are furnished with goldy wood browns. She is of elegant figure—a blonde; auntie says she has just escaped being pretty. She wore a wrapper of white Turkish toweling, for she was in negligee, trimmed with blue of the same material. One eye was destroyed by her brother shooting her with an arrow. This of course is a defect."

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 55½f.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 101½.

Gold closed in New York yesterday at 109⅛.

THE Post editor is crazy as well as drunk. When he claims that GAZETTE attaches go to the telegraph offices for orders he is simply crazy.

THE Post still insists that we receive orders from Washington to "Hold the Fort," and gives as evidence that our managing editor was seen at the telegraph office at three o'clock in the morning trying to get a dispatch through from New Orleans. We admit it—every word of it. The GAZETTE does not do like the Post,—depend on the other papers for its news. Now that we admit that we visit the telegraph office at three in the morning, will the Post please let the public know why it is the editor of that paper visits the Cathedral at 9 A. M. each morning. Is it to get its orders from the Bishop to hold on to the stereotype "20 ." We think not, but to use its argument one is about as honorable as the other. Will the Post now explain why it was the GAZETTE "held the fort" on the morning after the election, when, to use its own language, all the "Radical thieves and plunderers" gave it up? Come, now, no dodging.

THE returns from Florida and South Carolina, show that in the former State the Republicans actually have the State on a count of the vote as it stands,—with one Democratic and two Republican counties to hear from. Desperate exertions are being made to overcome this condition of things by the Democracy, but the danger of their doing so is not very great. It is considered reasonably sure that the count of the votes in South Carolina as they stand will elect HAYES, and probably CHAMBERLAIN. An honest count will certainly do so. Yet as we view it, despite the claim that Florida is the battle-ground, South Carolina is the real fighting territory. The corrupt element which Governor CHAMBERLAIN has so steadily fought, will be turned against him, the present emergency affording it opportunity for revenge. Such men as MOSES, are Democratic saints just now, and CHAMBERLAIN, and those who sought to reform the Government, the outcasts, so far as these "saints" can make it. What an outrage on consistency, honor, and propriety, the proceedings of the Democracy embody. Every conceivable rascality,—and the most blushing effrontery in fraud, is allied with the continual charge of wrong on the Republicans. Was Satan himself ever more impudent?

IT really seems as if President GRANT were to go out of office in a blaze of glory. His utterance relative to Southern affairs is so wise, loyal and right, that even Democratic papers dare not criticise, while his course, in the use of power, has been so impartial, that none can condemn either his acts or motives. We have a feeling of pride, that as he becomes more perfectly known, the high, pure character of President GRANT stands out in clear relief. He proves not only to be a pure man, but is recognized as one of the ablest Presidents the country ever had. We heard, some days since, a story of him which we think was never in print. While at Cairo, or some point in the West, and his headquarters were on a steamer, he suddenly approached the captain just at evening, and demanded that a stranger, who had been tolerated on board for several days, be put off at once. No reason was given for the sudden and imperative order. The man was well dressed and gentlemanly, and to put him off involved danger and discomfort to him. When spoken to by the captain and informed of General GRANT's order, he quietly submitted, explaining to the captain that he had offered GRANT $1,000,000 in gold to be allowed to run cotton through his lines—the money to be put up before operations were begun. The offer was not entertained for a moment, and the man put off at night in the mud for making it. That was GRANT then, and he is the same incorruptible man now.

THE lessons of history are always well worth studying. The bluster and threats we are now receiving from the Democracy are identical with those of 1860 both as to spirit and purpose. To a large extent the same parties who did the work of bluster then are doing it now. Many of the phrases then employed are employed now All was received then as now, in a quiet, undemonstrative way. Those who were abused and railed at returned it not in kind. LINCOLN was inaugurated at the proper time, just as HAYES is reasonably sure to be. Then came the rebellion, and with it the uprising of the people, that was totally unexpected and surprising to the people South. The New York Herald, trimming then as it does now, came near being cleaned out. The people were found to be in earnest, as they are now. Those who imagine that there is any fear because of all the threats of the Democracy, should remember 1861. The war fought, and GREELEY's humanitarianism influenced reconstruction,—a gentle, kindly, liberal process, that entirely underrated the value of treason, and restored the ex-rebels to their old privileges so easily, that many seemed to think the war in its outcome was rather a grievance against them, than a suppression of treason. It certainly, as events have shown, put increased political power in their hands. All this has been violently and vindictively used against their benefactors, and now the old threats are flaunted in our faces. Should another war unfortunately be precipitated, we imagine reconstruction will not be a second time made on GREELEY's philanthropic basis.

TWO persons are reported in seriously failing health in Europe, whose deaths, should they occur, will exert an important influence on pending events. These are BISMARCK and Count ANDRASSY. Just at the present we incline to the opinion that the latter would be more missed than the former. BISMARCK's failing health has forced his comparative withdrawal from active political life, and others have become accustomed to the management of the affairs of the German Empire. Besides, the Emperor WILLIAM has more influence than most sovereigns exert in the policy of the Empire. He is quite familiar with the scope and aim of European politics, and has decided views of his own. Hence the policy of the Empire will probably remain substantially the same in the present emergency, whether BISMARCK dies or not. In Austria, however, matters are different. The people of that great Empire are not homogeneous, and ANDRASSY has pursued the difficult policy of conciliation and harmony, as between excitable and conflicting elements. Being of Hungarian origin, he could control that dissatisfied people, and yet favor the views of the Sclaves, who favored Russia's policy. The Hungarians would prefer to fight Russia, and hence the value of the Prime Minister's influence. In the event of the break-down of his health, it is impossible to predict the result. It is generally understood, however, that Germany will be in the way of any Austrian attack on the Russians direct; but were ANDRASSY to die, it might thus develop a larger scope to the impending war. Two valuable lives are thus in jeopardy just now.

REPUBLICAN REPLY.

The two items of important news from New Orleans, published yesterday, may be regarded as involving the death knell to Democratic hopes. One states that the Returning Board propose to hold their sessions quietly, and not allow a promiscuous rabble present, to disturb their deliberations. The Democracy, probably inspired by HEWITT's "representatives," made a demand which practically amounted to the capture of the entire Board, had it been granted. It was that they be represented on the Board direct, which will probably be done, and then that all they choose to send be admitted to the sessions of the Board during the canvass. This modest proposal simply involved the coercion of the Board, and that body wisely determined to meet the whole issue by standing on the law and its rights, and only admit outside parties who may be needed as witnesses, or to argue law points. So this puts a short stop to the coercive processes of the Democracy.

We are greatly gratified, however, at the reply of the Republicans who visited New Orleans at the request of President GRANT to be of such service as they might in the existing emergency. We noticed at length, on the appearance of the Democratic letter, its tricky and dishonest attempt to secure at the outset the concession of their claim that the votes should be counted as cast; and we are glad to know that this is the basis of the refusal of the Republicans to have anything to do with the Democrats. They are distinctly informed that the law of Louisiana provides for the rectification of frauds, and that a lawful count is what Republicans want. The Republicans visiting New Orleans therefore will not collude with the Democrats to defeat the operations of law in the interest of rascality and fraud. And the impudence of the Democratic proposition is thus distinctly pointed out. We give all praise to the gentlemen who so judiciously and wisely met the artful scheme of the Democracy.

This last move, along with the dignified action of the Returning Board, dissipates the hopes of the Democracy of securing Louisiana by means of violence and fraud. They know that a legal, honest count of the votes in that State will give it to the Republicans. Their shameless, barbarous "bull-dozing" has served them no better purpose than to whet the appetites of their human blood-hounds for blood. Florida is now their objective, with a hope that they may entirely prevent a count in South Carolina. Whether this, if accomplished, would throw the election into the House, or whether a count can defeat the plain provisions of law, are questions pending in South Carolina. Every move marks the desperation of the Democracy, and every outcome the certain triumph of the Republicans. Were the Democracy legally and honorably entitled to the Government, they would not need to put forth such struggles, but if not legally entitled to the Government, they cannot bluster their way through.

TWEED.

Much has been said, in sarcasm and sport, of the returning "Boss," whose arrival in the "Franklin" may be expected at any time. Yet there is much, in the history of his troubles to show that a career of crime, even if for a time successful, may not be at all desirable. It is possible that the recent history of his escape may never be fully known. That he really escaped in the manner stated, without the knowledge or collusion of the officers in charge is not, of course, to be believed. How far the conspiracy ending in his escape extended can only be a matter of conjecture. The anxiety of TILDEN in securing possession of him on his return is a trifle singular; and the non-prosecution of Sheriff O'CONNOR, or his bonds, is not free from suspicion. The going of TWEED was certainly a source of relief to his Democratic friends, and it is very evident they did not intend to make an extreme effort to secure his recapture. They have never shown any excessive gratitude to the Government for its activity in the case, but on the contrary have seemed disappointed and irritated.

Yet, with all the advantages of friends and liberty, he evidently has had a very disagreeable time of it. In Cuba he was suspected and shadowed, and on arriving in Spain, arrested. A correspondent of the Tribune, represents him as moody and reflective, on board the "Franklin," with a disposition to be vengeful toward TILDEN. He is represented as declaring he has the facts which will utterly ruin TILDEN, once he can get them properly set forth. All this, however much there may be in it, shows a perturbed state of mind, and bitter and revengeful memories. Although possessed of means, and able to live in luxury, he feels that he has been degraded, humiliated, and this by those from whom he had a right to expect better things. So he feels all the bitterness of the most degraded criminal, his only solace being the physical comfort he is able to purchase and enjoy. He thus is an example of the possible results of crime, although not of its worst results.

In view of the spirit he shows, it will be an interesting problem as to what shall become of him on his arrival at New York. A faint hope is said to animate him that he will succeed in securing his release, on the score that Spain had no power to give him up, nor the United States to receive him, after he had reached foreign soil. That, of course, is a question between him and them. To be delivered up, and again incarcerated will be a bitter experience, particularly if the authorities take it into their heads that it will not look well to permit him to escape again. An old and obese man, he has met trouble at a time when it is hard to bear, but in this reaps the natural fruits of a vicious career. He has done a vast deal of injury, not merely by his thefts, but more by the influence of successful rascality, which he wielded so long. If he were now to divulge what he knows, unfolding the rascalities of others, and bring them thus to answer their crimes, he would make some atonement for a career that cannot be agreeably regarded. He was a great sinner, and deserves to suffer.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

There is so much of rumor and counter rumor that we include, in a single article, the general facts of the political situation for the information and encouragement of our readers. Much has been said about the legality and illegality of certain electors,—that this or that person is ineligible. Let us say that there is nothing in all that. If an elector is technically ineligible, he can absent himself from the meeting of electors, and his place legally filled. No anxiety need be wasted on that subject. As to the three contested States: South Carolina is clearly given up to HAYES, but a contest is being made on the Governorship. Our friends are perfectly confident, although at this writing we have more anxiety as to the decision of the Court touching the power of the Returning Board to canvass the legality of certain returns, than we have for any other State. If the Courts were pure we would not fear. But whatever the decision, it will not affect HAYES, and will be known by the time these lines are scanned by our readers. If the Court decides that the Board must count the votes as cast, the Governorship of South Carolina is in doubt, but not the Presidential result.

In Louisiana, the Democrats have utterly failed in their aims. The Republican visiting element refused to enter their trap, and the Returning Board organized according to law, without reference to outsiders at all. The members propose simply to do their duty under the law, and are represented as capable, clear-minded, and conscientious men. They have certainly shown a sense of dignity by the course they have taken. If now they will clearly respect the prevailing wish that the count shall be carefully made, rejecting only such parishes as are proven to have been tainted with fraud or terrorism, they will render the country great service. It is but fair to presume they will do this. The attempt of the Democratic press to stigmatize them is an outrage. They were not tainted with fraud in 1874,—the ablest branch of the Investigating Committee conceding that where differences of interpretation touching the law were given, they had a plausible showing on their side. It was, at most, a technicality on which they differed. This Returning Board has the nerve to do its duty. If it finds the ballots tainted in certain parishes, it will throw them out, as it should.

Florida is the real battle ground of the count.—and there large numbers of Democratic roughs have gone, to force measures their way. Their misfortune is that the vote in Florida was announced before the Democracy suspected they would need it. This vote has been very carefully recorded, and the operations of the Democracy are being closely watched. We do not, therefore, imagine that they will succeed in falsifying the vote. There is not a fragment of doubt that with an honest count we hold Florida. In brief the situation is just as the GAZETTE announced it the morning after the election, and so the final count will show. We do not doubt that when the decision comes to be finally made, the people of the country will readily accept the situation, and that HAYES will be in due time inaugurated President.

MASTER STROKE OF POLICY

How an Actress Built a Fortune for a Velvet Manufacturer.

In 1823 Talma, having only appeared in tragedy since 1797, consented to give his support to M'lle Mars, in one of Cassimir Delavigne's comedies. The announcement created a wonderful sensation—the best actor and the best actress in France to appear together. One morning, about a week previous to the time of the announced appearance, while M'lle Mars was in her private apartments, a manufacturer of Lyons asked for an audience. On entering, he spread out before the actress a shimmering fold of costly yellow velvet. "Will you deign to accept this and make my fortune?" said the visitor. Explanations followed, and it was understood to be purely a business affair. The sagacious manufacturer knew very well that the superb woman before him set the fashion in female dress before all Paris. Yellow velvet was his specialty, but no one wore it, and yet he was assured it would be all the rage if once seen upon the queen of the stage. Mlle. Mars did not know. The color was very trying; she had dresses enough; but at length the pleading of the manufacturer overcame her scruples, and in the kindness of her heart she took the velvet and handed it over to her dressmaker, with instructions for the making up. The eventful evening arrived, and Mlle. Mars was arrayed in her robes of yellow velvet. On beholding the reflection of herself in her dressing-room mirror her heart gave way. "It is too ridiculous!" she cried, almost shedding tears of vexation. "I look like an awfully exaggerated canary bird. Really I cannot appear. Tell the manager he must postpone the play, or at least wait for me." Talma heard the words and hurried from his dressing-room. "Is that all?" he said, when he had surveyed the queen and heard her story. "Upon my word, you never looked better in your life. The effect is superb. I am charmed with it." And the play went on. In less than two weeks thereafter the salons at Paris were literally golden with yellow velvet. A lady could not be in the fashion in anything else. Years afterward the wealthiest manufacturer of Lyons gave a grand fete in honor of Mlle. Mars, entertaining her sumptuously. The festival was held in a spacious and superb country house on the banks of the Saone, and the fortune upon which the estate had been reared had grown up from yellow velvet.—Whittaker's Journal.

The Dust of William Penn.

There is little occasion for begging in Philadelphia, the city of homes and benevolent institutions; and mentioning institutions reminds me that the William Penn Hospital furnished a funny scene in the street car last week. Two elegantly dressed young ladies took their seats, and when the conductor came for tickets the elder sweetly requested that the cars might stop at "William Penn's grave, or as near it as possible." The man of the bell punch scratched his head for an idea. Finding none, he replied, "You've got the best of me, ma'am," and then turning to a young man, whose smile testified his amusement, he asked for information. "William Penn died in England, and was buried there, I believe," said the gentleman.

"Oh! I'm sure you must be mistaken," said the damsel with the frizzes and flounces. "My sister saw his monument when she was here, but I've forgotten its exact locality."

Everybody was listening now; the young man didn't care to volunteer any more, and the young woman still sought for knowledge. There was a minute's pause, almost as awful as that in a dull prayer meeting; then a serene Quakeress came to the rescue, saying: "Thee will find the monument to William Penn's memory in front of the William Penn Hospital; but his dust is in England!"

Her Name was Lilly Dale.

His Honor greeted her with the utmost deference. She was nearly six feet high, and she had a leather belt girted around her waist until the could hardly breathe.

And she said her name was Lilly Dale.

"I suppose this political excitement was the cause of your breaking in a grocery window and yelling "Rah for Abraham Buchanan!" wasn't it?" asked His Honor.

"Not much!" she haughtily replied; "I don't take any interest in politics."

"Don't you care who is elected?"

"Naw, sir. What I want is a new merino dress, six pairs of stockings, a new bonnet and some Arctic overshes."

"Then you have no political proclivities?"

"Naw, sir; I wouldn't go to the polls and vote if you offered me a navy blue dress."

"Well, you must have broken the window through malice."

"Naw, sir; the grocer sold me bad butter, and when I took it back he said the tastle was all owing to my bad breath. Oh! wasn't I mad, though! And wouldn't anybody be mad, though!"

"I don't know what caused the trouble, Mrs. Dale, but I shall fine you five dollars here, and advise you, if you can prove the fragrance of your breath, to enter a suit for damages claiming at least a hundred thousand dollars. This is the last case, and Bijah will adjourn the Court."

The Richest Woman in Europe.

An exhibit of the estate of the Empress Eugenie is published, which makes her the richest woman in Europe, and in the receipt of a larger revenue from property and investments than the Empress Queen of England and India. It appears that all this wealth was accumulated during the Second Empire, during most of which Napoleon was so despotic that no one dared to question his accounts. Still it must be admitted that he only imitated the example of the monarchs who had ruled France before him, the vast estates of the Bourbons of both branches having been accumulated in the same way. The first Napoleon also enriched all the branches of his own family in a similar manner. That the Second Empire did wonders for France does not admit of dispute. With all its errors it was an era of glory, of increased power, prosperity and trade to the nation, and its monuments are neither few nor insignificant.

A Rival to the Yosemite.

It is not generally known that there exists in Fresno county, California, a rival of the Yosemite valley. The new valley is on Kings river, is forty-five miles long from east to west, and has an average width at the bottom of about half a mile. It lies five thousand feet above the sea, and its walls, which are about three thousand feet high, are very precipitous. In this valley a new grove of colossal redwood trees has been discovered. One of them eclipses all that have been discovered on the Pacific coast. Its circumference, as high as a man can reach and pass a tape-line around, is a few inches less than a hundred and fifty feet. This is beyond the measurement of any tree in the Calaveras grove. The height is estimated at a hundred and sixty feet; and a part of the top lying on the ground is over a hundred feet in length.

"BY THE STILL WATERS."

Don't you hear the hickory crackling?
  Muffled like, and soft, and low;
Sounds just like an army tramping,
  Only it's a sign of snow:
Here's a cinder smoldering, burning,
  Droppin' ashes, powdered fine;
Don't be frightened, little missis,
  It's a coffin, but it's mine.

Let me see the balm o' Gilead,
  Wavin' by the cabin do',
I won't hear its leaves a rustlin'
  In the spring, my chile, no mo',
Maybe I won't hear de blue bird
  Singin' in de apple trees;
But I'll hear the angels singin'
  Dey'll have sweeter songs dan dese.

Hark! is dat de thunder rolling—
  See de forked lightning's gleam;
Many a time I've soothed my baby
  When de storm disturbed her dream.
Now de drum—I hear it beatin'
  Slow and solemn-like, for me;
Maybe it's de waves a breakin'
  On de shores of Galilee.

'Twont be dark, de stars am shinin'
  Way above the storm and rain;
Dere'll be long protracted meetin's
  Campin' on de heavenly plain.
Dere wont be no wailin', weepin'—
  Dere wont be no day to part;
Christ will hear me when I knock dere,
  He will bind de broken heart.

'Cross cold Jordan's troubled waters,
  Into Canaan's land I fly;
Dere de tree of life is bloomin',
  All de hosts am passin' by.
Raise me up, I hear de rustlin',
  Angels at de cabin do';
Don't you weep for poor old mammy,
  She won't never grieve no mo'.

—St. Louis Republican.

A Disagreeable Gallantry.

It is a noticeable and disagreeable fact that when a pretty lady bounds into a street car the over-gallant conductor most invariably flops his arm around her waist. The excuse is that this is done to assist the lady into the car, but it is observed that the conductor stands on the platform and performs this pleasing operation after it is of no possible use to her, and as she is entering the car. The additional excuse is made that he encircles her waist at this last moment to prevent her tilting back when the car starts. But this is no excuse. When once safe on the outer platform the lady is fully able to walk to a seat without any outside pressure from the conductor's hands. Such practice is not only rude, but it soils the ladies dress, ruffles her temper, and deprives the soft young man with her of a delightful duty,—if such assistance were really necessary. No one ever saw a street car conductor assist a homely lady in such a manner. This of itself speaks volumes of evidence.

—Charles Francis Adams' love for the Irish has grown beautifully less since the election. He has broken his old clay pipe, torn the shamrock from the lappel of his coat, burned his shillalah, and resolved to become an American again. But Sam. Bowles, his backer, has sponged him off, and will enter him for the next fight.

HOME NEWS.

Parties who do not receive the GAZETTE by 7 A. M., are requested to notify the office, and the tardiness will be corrected at once.

The probabilities for to-day are warmer, southeast winds, cloudy weather, and possibly light rains, stationary or falling barometer, followed by colder northwest winds.

Stop Thief!

We will give ten dollars for the arrest of the man or boy stealing GAZETTES from subscribers' doors in the Fifth and Sixth wards, Allegheny. Who is the policeman that will claim the money?

Sheriff Sales.

On our third page this morning will be found the sales as published by order of Sheriff Fife to take place on Monday, December 4th.

The First Cremation.

The first body that will be cremated in the furnace of Dr. LeMoyne, at Washington, is that of Baron De Palm, a Bavarian nobleman. It will arrive and be placed in the furnace soon after Thanksgiving. Baron DePalm had lived in this country some years. Last spring he died and, as he directed in his will, his body was embalmed for the purpose of awaiting the erection of a furnace that it might be cremated. His executor hearing of Dr. LeMoyne's efforts in this direction made application to have the body cremated at Washington. The doctor at once assented.

The P. T. Company.

Drum, the Cashier of the Pennsylvania Transportation Company, has fled for parts unknown. The other officers of the organization charge that he is alone responsible for the fraudulent issue of certificates and that they had no knowledge of the over issue. The amount of certificates is not fully known but is reported to be very large. Gen. Herman Haupt, Chief Engineer of the company, has resigned his office, and is now engaged in visiting the agents in the several counties for the purpose of ascertaining the indebtedness of the company for services in procuring releases. This checks all work on the seaboard pipe line, and it is not probable that any further efforts will be made in this direction for the present, at least.

Revival Meetings.

The meetings of Graves and Leland are still increasing in interest. The Bible readings of yesterday were largely attended. More than a dozen ministers were present. Revs. Frazer, King, Dermit, Maguire, Humphrey and others took part in the exercises. Quite a number requested prayers for the first time. Last evening Mr. Graves preached from Gen. 24: 49. Subject—"Dealing kindly with Jesus." The speaker possesses the rare ability to make old subjects appear new, and with his intense earnestness succeeds in holding his audience spellbound. The children's meetings this afternoon, baptism Sabbath morning, address to men Sabbath afternoon, and regular meeting in the evening constitute the programme for to-day and to-morrow.

Our Colored Republicans.

The colored constituency are a large and reliable element in the Republican party, none are more faithful or more zealous in the work of the party. Among them here and there in the community will be found men of culture and ability, fitting them for public trusts. These men have not been sought out and entrusted with office according to their merit or in any proportion to their relative numbers. Such men as Prof. S. A. Neale, Benj. Pulpress, Hezekiah Anderson and many others, both in Allegheny and Pittsburgh, that might be named have deserved well of the party, and are well worthy of its favor. The labors and sacrifices of Prof. Neale, we happen to know, have been more than of most men, and more than he could afford. He has written much and spoken much, and written and spoken well and effectually, doing much to stir up the colored constituency and bring them to the polls, visiting and speaking at remote places, frequently reaching the points on foot, footsore and weary, paying his own expenses. Much is due to such a man and for such services. The Executive Committee owes it to him at least to reimburse him for his actual outlay and also for a part, at least, of the space given up for party use in his Monthly Elevator. He is too poor in worldly goods to bear without much discomfort the expenses he has incurred. "Muzzle not the ox that treadeth out the corn." Neale is modest and diffident, seeketh not his own, but is fit, every way, to adorn an office of honor and profit, and should be elected or appointed to some such. We emphasize the name of Prof Neale because of his preeminence over the average man, colored or white. There are, however, many other colored citizens, worthy of like consideration and preferment.

THE FINCH HOMICIDE.

Coroner's Investigation—The Verdict.

The Coroner's jury empannelled to inquire after what manner and from what cause William Finch, the man who died from injuries received on Fifth avenue, on November 6th, came to his death, met last evening at the Coroner's office. A number of witnesses were examined, but no new facts were developed further than what was in the hearing before the Mayor in the case of Fritz Graebel, who is charged with the crime. The jury found that Finch came to his death from injuries by a board in the hands of Fritz Graebel, on November 6th, and that said injuries were inflicted without provocation. The Coroner, after the verdict was rendered, lodged a commitment against Graebel.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

A Boiler in a Meat Shop at Sharpsburg Blown Up—No One Killed.

Yesterday forenoon, shortly before eleven o'clock, an upright tubular boiler, about six feet high, in a meat shop at Sharpsburg, exploded, demolishing the building and wrecking things generally in the neighborhood. The butcher shop was owned by Gotleib Wertz, and the boiler supplied steam to a small engine that ran a sausage grinder. The boiler was carried to the height of 125 or 130 feet in the air, and landed about 600 feet from the building, where it struck the side of a frame dwelling owned and occupied by Jacob Heisel, the occupants being out at the time. The boiler struck one of the upright timbers of the building and rolled down over the hill, striking another house and doing considerable damage to it. Peter Wertz, Luther Kroft, engineer, and William Rummel were in the shop when the explosion occurred, and with the exception of Kroft, escaped uninjured. The latter was slightly scalded on his leg and had his back hurt. A piece of iron passed through his hat, but did not hurt him. A piece of iron was hurled into slaughter pen, killing four pigs. The loss will be about $300, including the damage to the house of Mr. Heise. It is stated that the engineer, Kroft, knows nothing about engines and boilers, and was totally incompetent to fill the duties of engineer. However, this may be a mistake. It is certainly, though, as strange as fortunate, that no one was hurt seriously.

Throw Physic to the Dogs.

In order that mankind may arrive at the above desirable condition of life and health but few precautions are necessary. The first grand and essential point is to guard the feet against dampness, cold and chilliness. Money spent in this direction is the best possible investment. That it may be well invested, parties should buy boots and shoes from R. Taggart, 129 Federal street, as his stock is of the best quality, the most varied and the cheapest to be had anywhere. He will make good every claim, make no representation not strictly true to the letter, and will practically convince all his patrons that it will be to their interest to select from his stock.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—Approval of Tax Collectors' Bonds—Actions on Petitions, &c.

The Finance Committee of City Council met in Controller Snodgrass' office yesterday afternoon, Mr. Shipton in the chair.

The bonds of the following tax collectors were presented and approved: Calvin Bartley, Twelfth ward; John Fitzsimmons, Thirtieth ward; George Bradley, Fifteenth ward; Wm. King, Seventeenth ward.

A resolution from Councils for the payment of the Viewers on Sylvan avenue bridge $80 each was affirmatively returned.

A petition of James P. Flinn for the payment of damages done his property by the grading of a street, was referred to the City Attorney.

Thomas O'Rourke petitioned for an exoneration of the five per cent. additional on his taxes for non-payment before August 1st, claiming that he had sent in his check for the amount of his taxes before that time, but it had been mislaid. Action deferred.

Mr. Wm. Finch petitioned for the payment of $100 yet due him on the grading of Mulberry alley. Referred to Street Committee.

Petitions of W. D. Parnell and others for the abatement of their business tax, were referred to the City Assessor and the Controller.

A petition of Wettengill & Gormley for the payment of $1,914.11 still due on the paving of Alexander street, Thirty-sixth ward, before the annexation of Temperanceville to the city, was referred to the City Attorney for a written opinion as to how far the city is liable for debts of the borough that were not scheduled before annexation.

Resolutions for the refunding of insurance tax paid by the Security Life, the Ætna Life, and the Mutual Benefit Insurance Companies, were affirmatively recommended to Councils. The law on which this tax was assessed and collected has been declared invalid by the courts.

A bill of Samuel Anderson for costs incurred by him in prosecuting various suits on the vehicle license law, was referred to the City Treasurer.

Bills amounting to $200 were approved.

Adjourned.

THE ladies of the North Avenue M. E. Church, Allegheny, have organized a "Dorcas Society"—its object being to supply clothing to the needy.

MR. J. M. FOSTER, of the R. P. Seminary, Allegheny, will preach in the First R. P. church, Oak alley, to-morrow at 3 o'clock P. M. Sabbath school at 1½ P. M.

REVIVAL meetings have commenced in the Fulton street church of the Evangelical Association, Rev. L. M. Boyer, pastor. There are good prospects of success.

THE first anniversary meeting of the S. S. C. Temperance Alliance will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3½ o'clock in the M. E. church, corner Bingham and Thirteenth streets.

THE Presbyterian church of Parnassus, Presbytery of Blairsville, has given a call to Rev. John K. Black, who has just been released from the pastoral charge of the church at Lonaconing, Md., to accept this call. Rev. Mr. Black was formerly stationed at Hazlewood in this city.

A MAN just returned from a prolonged stay in the Black Hills doesn't give any very encouraging account of the amount of gold to be found there, but says it is one of the grandest fields for a Young Men's Christian Association or a temperance society to open business in he ever saw.

THE Evangelists, Graves and Leland, will conduct services in Dr. Pearson's Fourth avenue Baptist church, to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, afternoon at 3:30 and evening at 7:30. In the morning Dr. Pearson will baptize, and the afternoon meeting will be exclusively for men.

REV. S. S. SHRIVER has delivered and published a carefully prepared "History of Lebanon Presbyterian Church," Presbytery of Pittsburgh. This is one of the oldest churches, having been organized some time between 1776 and 1781—most probably in 1778, by Rev. John McMillan, D. D.

THE tenth anniversary of the Thirty-third street Methodist Episcopal Mission will be held in the chapel to-morrow afternoon at half past two o'clock. There will be addresses by the Rev. Dr. Felton, Rev. T. N. Boyle and Rev. C. W. Smith, together with singing and other interesting exercises by the school.

MEETINGS will be held to-day at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms as follows: Sunday school teachers meeting from 12 to 12:45 noon, to be led by L. R. Norton. Subject, "Dorcas Restored to Life;" Young men's meeting at 7:45 in the evening. Subject, "Prayer for the Young Men of Our City," to be led by A. W. Bell, Esq.

BE economical of your time. Do not waste a minute. However long we may live, our lives will be but short at best, and the vast realities of the coming world require that we should spare no pains in getting ready to meet them. Labor, pray, watch, play—do all things in proportion. But do something. There is no time for moping.

THE first quarterly meeting for the Conference year at Emory M. E church, East End, Rev. Dr. E. B. Snyder, pastor, will be held to-morrow. Rev. T. N. Boyle, presiding elder, will preach a preliminary sermon this evening, and the services to-morrow will embrace a sermon in the morning by Rev. Mr. Boyle, and a sermon at night by the pastor.

AN anniversary meeting will be held to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock in the Third ward Mission Sabbath School, corner Cedar avenue and Third street, Allegheny. The services will be under the general charge of the Superintendent, Mr. E. Lindsay Greer, and addresses will be delivered by Rev. Wm. Lichliter, and Messrs. James Park, Jr., and Frank Robinson.

DR. FELTON, the new pastor of Christ M. E. church, invited the members and congregation to call at the parsonage, Thursday evening, November 9th. The occasion offered an opportunity for making new friends, and brightening the links of old ties. Not among the least attractions was the bountiful repast served to the guests.

THE work under the evangelistic services of Mrs. VanCott at Butler street church, for some weeks past, was of a substantial and successful character. Considerably over one hundred were converted, and large numbers were also brought under the influence and power of the Gospel. Large congregations were present at most of the services. The pastor of the church, Rev. S. P. Woolfe, looks for further gracious results from the meetings.

THE Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Methodist Protestant Church in Allegheny City, Pa., held its fourth anniversary meeting on last Tuesday evening. The annual reports of the Secretary and Treasurer were read, which showed the gross receipts to be $459 39, and the disbursements $425 39. This society is in a flourishing condition. Mrs. Rev. T. H. Colhouer was elected President, and Mrs. J. H. Claney Secretary and Treasurer for the ensuing year.

AT a meeting of the Pastors of Chicago, representing all the evangelical denominations of the city, held November 2d, it was unanimously RESOLVED to hold a Christian Convention in the Tabernacle, Chicago, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, November 21st, 22d and 23d. Mr. Moody will preside at all the sessions of the convention and will open some of the topics, and Mr. Sankey will sing, and conduct the singing of the convention. Messrs. Whittle, Morehouse, Bliss, Needham, Inglis, and Stebbins will be present during the convention, and many prominent ministers and laymen from all parts of the country have been invited.

THE Presbyterian Banner takes this oblique view of politics. "Since the political campaign is over, there is a general counting up of the losses and expenses incurred. But it is quite likely that the great body of the people will overlook the most serious calamity connected with the contest, which is the new impulse given to drinking liquor and drunkenness. The excitements of the torchlight processions, the late hours and the immense day parades, led many to drink who never did so before, made many drunken who were never so at any previous time in their history, and caused not a few to return to wallowing in the mire who were supposed to have regained paths of temperance."

Dr. S. I. J. SCHERESCHEWSKY, the Bishop elect of Shanghai, China, has just been added to the list of speakers at the Church Congress at Boston. He is of Polish birth, and notwithstanding his almost unpronounceable name has the reputation of being one of the greatest linguists of the age. His topic will be the condition of the Chinese in their own and other lands. This gentleman became a Presbyterian after renouncing Judaism, studied theology in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Allegheny, and, it is said, was induced to enter the Episcopal Church by the influence of Dr. Lyman, now Bishop of North Carolina, but then Rector of Trinity Church, Pittsburgh.

The Speakership.

Hon. Henry M. Long, of Allegheny, Hon. E. S. N. Morgan, of Lawrence, and Henry Huhn, of Philadelphia, are named as candidates for Speaker of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives.—Venango Citizen.

The Hon. Henry M. Long, who was one of the two Republican members of the Legislature elected two years ago in Allegheny county, is again elected by a large majority. In the former Legislature Mr. Long proved himself to be one of the representative men of the State as well as one of the most able and industrious members of the House. It is a just tribute to merit that he has been returned. He is named as a prominent candidate for the next Speakership, and we heartily second the move, as we confidently believe that no better selection can possibly be made. Mr. Long's election would be a just reward to Allegheny county for the handsome majority given the Republican ticket at the late election, which is fairly entitled to public recognition at the hands of the Republican party throughout the State. We regard Mr. Long as the coming Speaker.—Bellefonte Republican.

Court Brevities.

A BILL in equity was filed in Court No. 2 yesterday by Melvina Hellen vs. Walter B. Hellen, to restrain defendant from removing certain household goods from his late residence, 218 Penn avenue. Mrs. Hellen has sued her husband for divorce and alimony, and pending the suit also asks Court to require the defendant to provide for and protect her until the divorce case is decided.

THE case of Thomas MacConnell & Son vs. The City of Baltimore, which was on the trial list in Common Pleas No. 2 yesterday, was postponed. This is an action to recover $10,000 for services rendered. The plaintiffs are lawyers, and it appears were interested for the city of Baltimore, defendant, in the matter of the compromise of bonds held by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and claim the amount above stated as fees in the case.

Another on the Centennial Awards.

As illustrating about how much real value is to be attached to the award of medals and reports, and all that sort of thing, given to piano and organ makers, the following incident shows how much weight such awards have on the minds of the educated and cultivated classes. The Estey Cottage Organ was not entered for competition at all, knowing that it was recognized as the leading organ in America, and indeed in the world, and that taking another medal would not increase its reputation, but it left the field open to the other smaller makers, who, of course, made the greatest possible noise about their respective medals. But now comes the point. While they were making their much ado about nothing the U. S. Centennial Educational Bureau quietly examined all the different makes of organs, bent on getting the very best only, to complete their model of an American school, perfect in every detail, and selected the Estey Cottage Organ as being the only one worthy of that honor.

A PROFESSIONAL SWINDLER.

The Doings of a Dealer in Lumber—Two Lumber Firms Victimized—The Swindler's Arrest.

A swindler who, from evidence found upon him, has practiced his calling in other cities with great success, yesterday found Pittsburgh an unhealthy city to deal in. His name is rather problematical, but the one he gave to the Chief is Jacob Simon. Yesterday forenoon he called at the lumber yard of McCune & Douglass, at the Point, and purchased two thousand feet of fencing boards for Straub & Ludwig, as he said. In payment he tendered a check for sixty-four dollars, drawn on the Fourth National Bank, by M. Schlichterman & Co., and endorsed by Straub & Ludwig. The amount of change due the ostensible buyer was twenty-two dollars, for which Mr. Samuel Douglass gave him a check on their own bank.

After Jacob Simon had gone, Mr. Douglass suspected that all was not right, and went to the Fourth National Bank with the $64 check he had received. He found that M. Schlichterman & Co. were persons utterly unknown to the bank, and that the check was worthless. He then repaired to his own bank, only to find that the $22 check had been presented, and paid some time before. Thinking that he had lost the $22 irrecoverably, Mr. Douglass did not report the matter to the police, but went out Penn avenue to attend to some business. On his way back he met Mr. Ewing, of the firm of A. McClure & Co., lumber dealers at Twenty-eighth street, and told him the circumstances of his being victimized. Mr. Ewing, for some unaccountable reason, getting the idea that the swindler might try operations at his yard also, got off the car at Twenty-eighth street, and went in to tell his bookkeeper. He explained to the bookkeeper the operations of the swindler at McCune & Douglass's, and was surprised during the narration to see him change color, and finally remark that he, too, had been victimized. The same individual had called at the office and purchased the same amount of lumber, and tendered in payment a check on the Fourth National Bank signed by S. Stahlman and endorsed by Straub & Ludwig. The change due was $21, for which the bookkeeper gave Simon a check. Mr. Ewing asked the clerk if he could identify the man. He said he could, and together they started in search of him.

In the meantime Mr. Douglass rode on down in the Penn avenue car. A block or two below where Mr. Ewing got off, Mr. D. was astonished to see the swindler get on the car. They recognized each other instantly. After riding a short distance and paying his fare, Simon went out on the platform of the car. Mr. Douglass followed, when Simon stepped off and Mr. D. stepped off also, and remarked to Simon: "I want you." Simon answered by pulling out a roll of bills and asking Mr. Douglass how much he owed him. Mr. D. answered $22. Simon then handed him $23, expecting that would be the last of it. "But," said Mr. Ewing, "I want you too." Simon tried to beg off, offering Mr. E. all the money he had if he would let him go. Mr. Ewing, however, was not inclined to allow any such escape from judgment, and spying a friend near he made known the facts and the two took hold of Simon and commenced walking down street. Simon asked them to let go of his arm, as he was willing to go with them, but didn't want to look as if he was in custody. Presently he spied a policeman, and turning on his heel he started to run at the top of his speed, with Mr. Douglass after him. They ran for several squares in and out of alleys, raising the cry of thief, until finally Simon was captured and lodged in the Twelfth ward lockup. On searching him papers were found upon him that indicated he had been in business, perhaps of a like nature, in Baltimore and Chicago. Several fraudulent checks were found and $23 in money. His prospects at present are remarkably good for a term in the Western Penitentiary.

The swindler was brought down to the Central Station last night and locked up. He then gave the name of Morritz Snell. A letter written in German, found upon his person, was addressed to Morritz Schnelein. The latter is probably his correct name.

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

Its Medicinal Properties are

ALTERATIVE, TONIC, SOLVENT AND DIURETIC.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system, every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humors, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervous and General prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and it is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

UNQUALIFIED APPRECIATION.

BOSTON, Nov. 18, 1875.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir—During the past five years I have had ample opportunity to judge of the merit of VEGETINE. My wife has used it for complaints attending a lady of delicate health, with more beneficial results than anything else which she ever tried. I have given it to my children under almost every circumstance attending a large family, and always with marked benefit. I have taken it myself with such great benefit that I cannot find words to express my unqualified appreciation of its goodness.

While performing my duties as a Police officer in this city, it has been my lot to fall in with a great deal of sickness. I unhesitatingly recommend VEGETINE and I never knew of a case where it did not prove all that was claimed for it. Particularly in cases of a debilitated or impoverished state of the blood its effects are really wonderful; and for all complaints arising form an impure state of the blood it appears to work like a charm, and I do not believe there are any circumstances under which VEGETINE can be used with injurious results, and it will always afford me pleasure to give any further information as to what I know about VEGETINE.

WM. B. HILL,
Police Station 4.

CANNOT BE EXCELLED.

CHARLESTOWN, MASS., March 19, 1869.

H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have used your blood preparation (VEGETINE) in my family for several years, and think that, for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors, or Rheumatic Affections, it cannot be excelled; and, as a blood-purifier and spring medicine, it is the best thing I have ever used; and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. A. A. DINSMORE,
19 Russell street.

A Source of Great Anxiety.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of the VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite. N. H. TILDEN,

FINANCIAL.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
PITTSBURGH, November 18, 1876.

The weather yesterday was reasonably fair for business. There was no change in the essential features of the loan market. The clearings faithfully reflect the dullness of general business, at the banks as elsewhere. Some currency is going to the country, but the total shipments are inconsiderable when compared with the volume of those a month ago. The demand for accommodations is not at all pressing. The banks, although deposits are not especially high, have more than enough funds to supply all comers. The comparative scarcity of good paper has not had any appreciable effect on the rates of discount. An improvement in the loan market in the near future seems to be confidently looked for.

NEW YORK, November 17, 1876.

Money 2½@4; prime mercantile paper 4@6. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $64,000. The customs receipts were $192,000. The clearings were $20,000,000, Sterling 482@484. Gold opened and closed at 109⅜, with sales in the interim at 109¼. The rates paid for carrying were 1½, 2, 1, 4 and 3 per cent. In Governments little was doing, but at better prices. In Railroad bonds this afternoon Toledo & Wabash seconds sold up to 68½@69, and Great Western firsts to 97. Ohio & Mississippi seconds recovered ⅜ per cent., selling at 43; do. consolidated fell off to 82 regular and 80 seller 60. C. & N. W. consolidated declined to 102½. New York Central firsts brought 120⅛ for coupon and 120 for registered. Chicago & Northwestern consolidated gold coupons declined to 94¼. State bonds were quiet at nominal prices. The stock market was generally higher in early dealings, but some of the improvement was afterward lost. Coal stocks were the weakest of the list. The market was lower during the afternoon, but firmer towards the close, although the course of speculation was somewhat irregular. Lake Shore was the most active stock, having fallen off from 56⅝ to 55⅜, with final sales at 56⅛. Michigan Central declined from 43 to 42, and closed at 42⅜. Granger stocks were firmer, and the demonstration of the morning against Northwest shares ceased. Reports of a change to be made in the direction of the Northwest also contributed to the advance, and the firmness of the shares being interpreted to mean additional financial strength to the corporation. Northwest common rose to 34 and preferred to 58¾. St. Paul common advanced to 19⅜, and preferred to 51⅜, closing at a reaction of ⅛@¼ per cent. Western Union declined to 71⅝ at the close. The coal stocks recovered some of the early decline, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western rising to 70⅜, and New Jersey Central to 34⅜. Rock Island declined to 99⅜. The other changes were insignificant. The market closed active and strong. The transactions to-day aggregated 140,550 shares, of which 3,300 were Erie, 54,500 Lake Shore, 15,000 Northwests, 11,000 St. Pauls, 10,000 Ohios, 6,300 Western Union, 26,500 Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 2,000 New Jersey Central, and 7,700 Michigan Central.

LONDON, November 17.—The London and Continental Stock Exchanges were flat to-day, and international stocks, such as Russian, Turkish, Egyptian, Hungarian and French, declined considerably. Consols were remarkably steady through out, closing at the best point for the day, but everything else suffered from the threatening aspect of political affairs. In London, however, the most sensitive stocks did not close at their worse point, but showed a recovery of ⅛ to 1 per cent. late in the afternoon. The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance was £152,000. Silver 54d per ounce. Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, November 17, 1876.

The most important feature we have to notice is a slight reaction in Sugars, which have been very strong and somewhat excited for some days past. As regards the other leading staples, there is nothing particularly new to report. General business continues a little tame, although about all that can be expected.

APPLES—Coming forward freely, and the market is well supplied; prices, however, remain unchanged, $1 to $1.50 per bbl.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is quoted steady at 3½a3¾c ℔ lb to the wholesale trade, and 4c in a small way.

BUTTER—There is rather more inquiry for strictly prime table Butter, but, as yet, no improvement in prices. Sales of prime to choice rolls at 22a23c; do. solid packed, 15a18; fancy dairy, 24a25c.

BEANS—In fair demand with sales at $1.50a2 per bu, as to quantity and quality. It is reported that the crop this year has been much less than that of last year.

BROOM CORN—We quote as follows: No. 1 hurl, 6¼c; No. 2 hurl, 6; choice brush that will work up, 5a6, fair to good, 4a4½; covers and insiding, 4a4½c; inferior and mixed lots selling from 3½a3¾; crooked, 2a3.

CIDER—Dull; $8a9 ℔ bbl.

CHESTNUTS—$3.50a4 ℔ bushel.

CRANBERRIES—Quiet and unchanged; $8a10 per bbl, as to quality and condition.

DRIED FRUIT—The export demand for Apples has about subsided, and with no local orders trade is dull and prices are little better than nominal; the same remarks will apply to Peaches and all other kinds of dried fruits.

CHEESE—Is firmer, but no change in prices. We continue to quote at 13a13½ for prime Ohio Factory September make, and 12a12½c for August make, to wholesale buyers.

EGGS—Fresh are still reported steady at 27c, with a light stock. Pickeled in good supply and not much inquired for; 20a23c.

FLOUR—There is a fair local demand, but no change in prices. We continue to quote good reliable brands of either winter or spring at $6.50a6.75; patent process and fancy white wheat brands, $8a8. Rye flour, 4a4½ ℔ bbl.

GROCERIES—The most important matter we have to record is a slight reaction in Sugars; our latest advices from the refineries at this writing report a decline of an eighth on refined goods. However, in view of the very light visible supply, the market continues strong, and some operators predict that the article will stiffen up again within the next few days. Coffees are weak, and in the seaboard markets prices are lower. N. O. Sugar and Molasses have commenced to arrive pretty freely.

GRAIN—The Grain markets continue quiet and unchanged. Wheat is in fair demand, and we continue to report the market steady at $1.25a1.30 for fair to prime Penna, and Ohio red. The Oat market is moderately active but unchanged; mixed, 36a37c; white, 38a39c. The receipts recently have been rather light, but as yet the supply is ample to meet the demand. New Ear Corn still quoted at 40a45, and old do. at 53a55. Old Shelled Corn quotable at 55a57c on track. Rye, 70a72. Barley unchanged; 90a95c for spring and $1 for fall.

HAY—Is firmer, as the bad condition of the country roads has checked the receipts, but as yet there has been no advance. Loose quotable at $12a15 per ton from country wagons.

MILL FEED—The market continues quiet and unchanged. Bran, $11½a12 per ton; Shipstuffs, Seconds and Shorts, $13a15; Middlings and Chopped Feed, $20a22, as to quality.

POTATOES—Continue to come forward freely, but with a steady demand prices are fully maintained; we continue to quote at 65a75c per bushel, on track, as to quality. Sweets, $3.75a4 ℔ bbl for Baltimores and $4.50 for Jerseys.

PROVISIONS—There is nothing new to report. Business in our market continues quiet, and prices unchanged. Lard appears to be a fancy article in Chicago, and within the past few days it has been run up considerably there: the movement, however, is no doubt speculative.

THE IRON TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, November 17, 1876.

Pittsburgh.

PIG IRON—The market has been exceedingly dull during the past week, which is owing to in part to the continued election excitement, and while it is hoped that there will soon be a change for the better, the indications at present are not very encouraging. It is true the mills are pretty generally in operation, but few if any of them are working up to their full capacity, and they are buying no more pig iron than they can possibly help. In regard to prices, there has been no change whatever. No. 1 Foundry, $24a25, 4 mos; No. 2, $22a23; Grey Forge, $21a22; Hanging Rock Charcoal, $27a28, 4 mos, for No. 1 Foundry and $24a26 for No. 2, as to brand. Following sales were reported:

50 tons No. 2 Foundry H R	24 00	cash
10 tons No 2 Foundry H R	23 00	4 mos
10 tons No 2 Foundry	22 50	cash

MANUFACTURED IRON—Manufacturers continue to report business dull and unsatisfactory; that, in addition to a scarcity of orders, prices are being shaved so close that there is little or no margin for profit. Quotations may be given on a basis of 2c for merchant bars, although it is said that sales are being made below our quotation.

NAILS—The market, while it cannot be termed active, is about all that can be expected at this season of the year. However, notwithstanding trade is slack, the market is in a very healthy condition, as prices are being firmly and faithfully adhered to. We continue quote at $2.85, 60 days, for less than 200 kegs, and $2.75, 60 days, for orders of 200 kegs and upwards, with two ℔ cent off for cash.

SCRAP—The movement in scrap iron continues very light; as in the case of pigiron, the demand is restricted to supplying immediate actual necessities. No. 1 railroad wrought scrap is quoted at $25 ℔ ton.

HORSE AND MULE SHOES—Quiet and unchanged. Shoenberger & Co., quote at 4¾c ℔lb, cash for Horse Shoes, and 5¾c, cash, for Mule Shoes.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, Nov. 17, 1876.

The general position of the market has not varied much since the date of our last report. There is evidently a better and more cheerful feeling, which may be attributed to the increased export demand for the product within the past few days. We learn that a number of refineries, which have been idle for some months past, will be started up within the next few days, and, if so, there will, of course be an increased consumption; this we apprehend is the main cause of the improvement in the market during the past day or two. United certificates were quoted at $3.40a3.42½; and immediate shipment at $3.42½a3.45.

Refined firmer and more active, but unchanged. Philadelphia and Baltimore delivery, 26; New York, 26¼. There has been quite an advance at Antwerp within the past week.

Oil Barrels firm with an upward tendency; we continue to quote at $1.10 for countries and $1.25 for city make—some coopers are stiff at $1.30 for the latter.

THE Granite State departed for Portsmouth with a fair trip.

THE John L. Rhoads, from St. Louis, is among the first boats due.

THE Lion departed for Cincinnati to bring up a tow of empty barges.

THE Ironsides is filling up steadily for St. Louis and Upper Mississippi.

THE Fannie Tatum has laid up at Jacksonport, Ark., to await a chance for a trip south.

DR. BURLEIGH, owner of the steamer Carroll, was elected a member of the Dakota Legislature.

THE Salt Valley is due from Ironton to-morrow, and will return on Monday, leaving promptly on time.

THE new towboat South Side departed for Ironton, with five barges of coke. She double tripped to Logstown.

CAPT. WOODBURN'S Fannie Moore is chartered to run in the New Orleans and Bayou Teche trade, in place of the Geo. Spangler, which lacks a steam capstan.

A CAIRO dispatch, under date of 15, says: The Katie P. Kountz is aground on the head of the bar at the Little Chain. The Jim Fisk gave her a barge to lighten with.

JOHN McGINNIS, working a windlass on the Southern Railroad Bridge, on Wednesday morning, to place a trestle-work under the channel span, fell from the bridge to a flat below, and was instantly killed. He was unmarried.

THE Cheek Line of steamers, embracing the Illinois, G. W. Cheek and A. J. White, are to be managed from this time on by Mr. N. M. Jones, the coal dealer, as trustee. The liabilities of the line are reported to be $40,000 as far as heard from.

THE Cincinnati Commercial says: It is said the St. Louis Pool Line are running the Grand Republic and James Howard in the Memphis and New Orleans trade, in opposition to the Thompson Dean and Carondelet, with the hope of 'banking' the two latter steamers, in order to secure the cotton trade for the St. Louis and New Orleans Pool Line boats. The Mississippi is too big for this game to succeed.

KEOKUK Gate City, 14th: Since the disaster to the Louisiana Bridge, about ten days since, the piers of all the bridges along the river have been examined with the view of ascertaining their condition. Those of the Quincy Bridge were found to have been damaged to some extent by the action of the water, and about 1,200 yards of rock have been deposited about them for the purpose of protecting them. Other bridges along the river have been effected in the same manner. Yesterday soundings were made around the Keokuk and Hamilton Bridge, at this place, and we are glad to say they were ascertained to be in as good condition as the day they were put in. Instead of being undermined, the sand has accumulated about them, and the water is shallower there than anywhere else.
